

Couchmans Partner Named in Lawyer “Hot 100”

7 January 2011

Congratulations to Couchmans Partner Satish Khandke who, after an outstanding year working on several high profile deals, has been named in the Lawyer magazine’s “Hot 100” of movers and shakers to watch in the legal profession for 2011. The Lawyer said the following about Satish, which we think says it all:

"Sports boutique Couchmans LLP continued to punch above its weight in 2010 and that success is in no small part down to the head of its sports ventures unit Satish Khandke. The former Baker & McKenzie corporate associate began specialising in sport when he left for Townleys in 2001, shortly before its acquisition by Hammonds. He joined Couchmans four years later. The standout matter of the past 12 months for Khandke was advising former Liverpool FC chairman Martin Broughton during the sale of the club to New England Sport Ventures. The fact that he stood alongside Slaughter and May (acting for the club on the deal) shows the esteem in which both Khandke and his firm are held."